Congress To Probe Utility Bill Lobby By Administration

Byrns Promises Thorough Investigation by House as Senate Moves To Vote $150,000 Fund for Double-Edged Investigation.

MEASURE'S AUTHOR ASKS COMPROMISE

Representatives Expected To Use Publicity Spotlight for Retaliation Against Brain Trusters.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(P)—A thorough house rules committee investigation of lobbying on the utility control bill was promised today by Speaker Byrns, coincident with the shaping of a similar inquiry in the senate.

"I am not a member of the rules committee, but knowing the chairman and membership of that committee," Byrns said, "I am confident that everyone can be quite sure the investigation will be full, fair, thorough and impartial."

The speaker's statement concerning the probe into activities both for and against the "death sentence" bill passed by the house yesterday, came after a member prominent in the house fight predicted privately the house committee inquiry would be a "white-wash." He expressed a belief that the real investigation would be that voted today by the senate Interstate Commerce Committee.

Ample Evidence. There was ample evidence, however, that the house study would be used to put the spotlight on some of the "brain trusters" against whom some house members have private expressed resentment. In fact, the unexpected carry-over of the utility bill was not directly precipitated by the thousands of letters and telegrams that have flooded Capitol Hill against the utilities bill and drawn down repeated denunciations of "propaganda" at both ends of the capital, but by the alleged activities of one of the so-called "brain trust" men in working to put over the 1932 abolition provision of the senate bill in place of the house's, leaving hold-

Police Chief Resigns In St. Paul Inquiry

ST. PAUL, July 3.—(P)—The resignation of M. J. Culligan, suspended chief of police, was announced today. He was suspended 10 days ago when H. E. Warren, public safety commissioner, removed from duty four other officers and ordered four to quit, charging "illicit activities" on the part of those involved. His charges included "neglect of duty" by those suspended, and "corruptly treating with criminals" and "being a party to detect and suppress crime" by those ordered removed.

In a letter of resignation, Culligan denied any misconduct.

ITALIAN-ETHIOPIAN FORCES IN CLASH; CASUALTIES HEAVY

Consignment of 5,000,000 Cartridges En Route to Ethiopia From Belgium Is Held Up at Djibouti.

ADDIS ABABA, July 3.—(P)—Unofficial reports received here today said there were heavy losses on both sides in a battle between Italian and Ethiopian forces but details and confirmation were lacking.

The frontier of Eritrea, scene of previous incidents, was said to be where the fighting took place.

Another report said 5,000,000 cartridges being shipped to Ethiopia from Belgium was being held up by French authorities at Djibouti, French Somaliland.

(A London dispatch said the report from Addis Ababa of a severe battle lacked confirmation in European capitals, which are keeping a close watch on the situation.

(A spokesman for the Italian government in Rome, who spent the day investigating the reports, said he could not substantiate them. Italy, it was understood, queried the minister to Addis Ababa on the subject but he replied he lacked information.)

ITALIANS PREPARE FOR BARRETTED ARMY

ROME, July 3.—(P)—Based on the fact that most Ethiopian soldiers go barefooted, the Italian army has prepared a type of chemical which sprinkled on the ground, will burn through even shoe leather.

During a trial of the substance near Rome, a photographer inadvertently started to walk across ground sprinkled with the chemical. An officer grabbed him and rushed him to a watering trough. The soles of his shoes were burned away.

FRENCH OFFICIALS DENY REPORT.

PARIS, July 3.—(P)—French officials said today they had no knowledge of a report that 5,000,000 cartridges were en route to Ethiopia.

ACTION FORECAST ON WEALTH LEVY

Hill Says "We're Going Through With Original Plan"; Sees Shrinkage.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(P)—Indications that the President's tax-rich program would bring in less money than has been forecast today came from a congressional tax leader, coupled with an assertion that the "social aspects" of the plan were more important than its revenue considerations.

Representative Samuel B. Hill, democrat, Washington, chairman of the house ways and means subcommittee which originates tax bills, the spokesman, also discounted attempts to delay action on the program until next session. He added that "we're going through with the original plan."

The original plan was an understanding with the President that all efforts would be made to enact the new tax program this session. Chairman Harrison, democrat, Mississippi, of the senate finance committee, already had said he was proceeding with that program. Hill remarked today that "we will have some sort of a bill ready for the full committee to start hearings on Monday."

Just what rates would be included, Hill could not say. He asserted, however, that after conferences with treasury officials, he felt the "social aspects" of the plan were more important than the amount of money that would be raised.

Some, he remarked, have said that millions and even billions could be raised through the very taxes suggested by the President—levies on inheritances, gifts, corporation incomes and individual incomes over a million dollars a year.

"I don't believe there is a chance to get anything like the amount of money that has been talked about," Hill asserted. "For instance, the collection is that the incomes above $1,000,000 a year produced only about $81,000,000 last year. Even if you taxed that 100 per cent, you wouldn't get enough money to count—on a financial standpoint."

Trap Drummer Confesses Slaying 11-Year-Old Girl Last September

Trapped by Fingerprints in New York, Merton Ward Goodrich Admits Crime; Records Show Long Criminal Record.

NEW YORK, July 3.—(P)—Trapped by a tell-tale fingerprint record Merton Ward Goodrich wearily confessed late today to the slaying of 11-year-old Lillian Gallagher in Detroit last September and voiced readiness to return to Michigan with Detroit authorities who rushed here by airplane.

His confession was obtained by Detectives William O'Brien and Raymond Henshaw and Assistant District Attorney Abraham J. Gellinoff, and announced by Henshaw.

The sallow-faced, 27-year-old trap drummer, whose police record shows three separate incarcerations in an Ohio institution for the criminal insanity, was arrested yesterday on a disorderly charge under the name of Raymond Johnson while acting indecently at a children's playground.

While waiting to be remanded to jail today on a disorderly conduct charge, to which he pleaded guilty, police discovered that his fingerprints tallied with those of Goodrich. The confession followed swiftly, and his immediate return to Detroit was ordered.

Goodrich's 28-year-old wife, who fled with him to Canada after the Gallagher child's death, was questioned by detectives, and, according to officials, admitted her identity. She was charged with homicide on the basis of an indictment reported returned against her in Detroit.

A brunette tastefully dressed in a white silk summer outfit, she acknowledged to detectives that her husband confessed Lillian's death to her, but that she stayed by him because "I loved him."

Prisoner Breaks Down. Confronted casually in the detention pen of the West Side jail as "Goodrich" by Detectives William O'Brien and Raymond Henshaw, the prisoner uttered a few weak denials and then broke down.

According to the detectives and Assistant District Attorney Abraham J. Gellinoff, Goodrich said he enticed the girl to his room on the plea of helping him take some books to the library.

Then, he was quoted as saying, he attempted to attack the child but she became frightened and ran for the stairs. In flight, she tripped and fell, hitting her head and becoming unconscious. Goodrich said, according to his confession, he then gagged the child, put her in a bathtub, and finally jammed her body in a trunk.

"I met my wife, Florence, on the street," detectives quoted him saying, "and I said 'sweetheart, there are a lot of people looking for you.'"

GLORIA'S MOTHER IS DENIED CUSTODY

High Court Declares Motive of Society Matron Is Purely Mercenary.

NEW YORK, July 3.—(P)—Bluntly ascribing mercenary motives to Mrs. Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt's fight for custody of her heiress-daughter, the appellate division of the supreme court today denied the dashing widow of the late Reginald Vanderbilt the full claims of motherhood upon 11-year-old Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt.

In a unanimous decision of the appellate judges, the court upheld the decision of Supreme Court Justice John F. Carew awarding principal custody of the child to Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, her paternal aunt.

"The reason which the relation (Mrs. Vanderbilt) offered in explanation of her conduct seems to us entirely unconvincing an inadequate," said the opinion written by Associate Justice Irving Untermyer.

"Until the allowance, which was provided for the child's support, appeared to be endangered by the fact that the child no longer lived with her, the relation appears to have manifested any strong desire for her daughter's companionship."

Carew Praised. Noting judicially that Mrs. Vanderbilt had relegated her daughter to a "life of neglect and loneliness," to which the little heiress protested bitterly, the opinion said that Justice Carew "adopted what appears to us the only possible course."

The appellate judges then dropped a word of advice to Mrs. Vanderbilt: "Her means, if she is to be able to support her daughter, must be adequate to the needs of the child."

With the borrowing capacity of most cities exhausted, state works progress administrators have been urged to raise the remaining $50 per cent of the cost of non-federal PWA projects.

Effect of Decision. This decision, taken to bring them within the $1,148 average available in federal money for each job created, left most states and cities with the necessity for raising the remaining $50 per cent. Although some will receive loans from PWA's revolving fund, this was known to be inadequate to match the entire $500,000,000 authorized as grants.

881 GEORGIA JOBS TO EMPLOY 21,983 APPROVED BY U. S.

Projects Will Involve Expenditure of $13,569,231 on 'Necessary and Socially Useful' Projects.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—Both the White House and the Works Progress Administration today announced that they had approved 881 projects in Georgia that will give direct employment to 21,983 persons at a cost of $13,569,231.

The sum of $2,758,561.19 is for the state and its subdivisions, making a grand total of $13,569,231.50.

Although President Roosevelt said at his biweekly press conference today that the individual projects would be identified by Administrator Hopkins later in the day, complications arose that forced Mr. Hopkins to delay making the projects public until later in the week.

Work on the Georgia projects, Hopkins said, can start within 10 days. It is understood that since State Administrator Shepperson submitted his list of projects during a conference with Mr. Hopkins in Washington late last month, certain revisions and deletions have had to be made.

All of the fund for the 881 projects will go for wages with the exception of $2,190,039.37, which will be used for the purchase of materials and supplies, Hopkins said.

For the construction of secondary roads and streets, other than routes of state and federal aid highways, the federal government will provide $1,024,610.75. For projects of the state of Georgia and its subdivisions, the federal government will provide $2,190,039.37.

Administrator Hopkins declared the projects are all classed as necessary and socially useful and are typical of the character of undertakings that will be included in the nation-wide program.

Labor Conditions. Asked about wage, hour and child labor conditions since NRA codes were wiped out by the supreme court, Mr. Roosevelt said grimly that was another story. He added he had a three-foot stack of reports on the subject.

In succeeding NRA as the government's industry organizer, it was learned the commission has been instructed by President Roosevelt to avoid the time-honored code-making procedure of old NRA. Much care, it was said, will be taken to avoid raising "false hopes."

The extent to which the commission may go in making voluntary codes remained to be developed. For some 15 years it has been making trade practice agreements, much the same as NRA codes without labor provisions, and on a much more restricted basis.

THROUGHS TO HEAR TALMADGE SPEECH

Address at Canton Today May Start 1936 Political Pot Boiling in Georgia.

Governor Talmadge will carry his fight on the national administration to the people of Georgia today when he speaks at a state-wide Talmadge rally at Canton, delivering an address which many believe will mark the opening of the 1936 presidential campaign in Georgia.

Hundreds of Talmadge's closest followers were reported in and around Canton last night while other hundreds had congregated here prepared to motor to the Cherokee county seat this morning where the speech will be the feature of a program dedicating a new bridge.

The governor returned yesterday from his farm in Monroe county where he completed the final draft of his speech.

The speech, which will begin at 12:30 o'clock Atlanta time will be broadcast over radio stations WSB and WGST. It is expected to be concluded by 2 o'clock.

Ready for Big Crowd. Canton city officials and officials of Cherokee county announced that they had prepared to take care of a crowd as large as 50,000.

Adjutant-General Lindley W. Camp, who has been aiding the committee on arrangements, said that he had detailed a number of officers and enlisted men of the national guard on hand to assist the Canton police in handling the crowds.

"The Canton officials have worked out a program for handling all traffic," General Camp said. "There will be parking space plenty and I believe that the crowd can move away pretty swiftly after the address has been completed."

Unanimous Appeal Made After Clash Between Factions

U. S. MAY APPROVE OPEN PRICE FILING IN MODIFIED FORM

Federal Trade Body to Explore 'New Fields' in Business Co-operation in Creation of New Codes.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—Exploration of "new fields" in business co-operation today was planned by the Federal Trade Commission in carrying out President Roosevelt's injunction to help create voluntary business codes.

James L. O'Neill, acting NRA chief, who has been conferring with the commission, said the new plans may extend even to permitting a highly modified form of open price filing.

As for his own outfit—a "stop-gap" for the once powerful NRA code structure—O'Neill termed NRA a "shrinking organization" whose assistance in code making will be limited to taking "care of anyone who insisted" upon labor provisions in commission codes. He emphasized voluntary fair practice agreements need not contain labor sections.

President Roosevelt told his press conference today he expects commission codes to come within the Sherman anti-trust law. He described NRA's job as doing spade-work on labor questions for the commission.

Asked about wage, hour and child labor conditions since NRA codes were wiped out by the supreme court, Mr. Roosevelt said grimly that was another story. He added he had a three-foot stack of reports on the subject.

Ely Culbertson Sued By 'The Four Aces'

NEW YORK, July 3.—(P)—Ely Culbertson was sued today by "The Four Aces" in the state supreme court. David T. Burnstone, Michael T. Gottlieb, Oswald Jacoby and Howard Schenken brought an action seeking to restrain Culbertson, his associate editor, Richard L. Frey, formerly one of the "Aces," and Culbertson's magazine, the Bridge World, from attacking them.

The complaint says that the defendants published statements to the effect that the plaintiffs have no system of their own, are not the best bridge players in the world, and do not employ their system in tournaments.

The defendants wrongfully maintain, the complaint continues, that Culbertson's system is the best and that he and his team are the best bridge players in the world. Another cause of action cited is that the defendants attribute the plaintiffs' success to Frey, who was a substitute on their team.

The decision was announced at the close of a two-hour session in which attorneys for the convicted bomber of the San Francisco 1916 Preparedness Day parade and Deputy Attorney-General William Clegg clashed repeatedly in heated arguments.

From the session came evidence that the hearing will last approximately a month and that Mooney's latest attempt to gain his freedom through assertions he was convicted on perjured testimony will be vigorously fought by the state of California.

Tom Mooney Hearing Is Set for September 3

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—(P)—The state supreme court today ordered the hearing on Tom Mooney's petition, seeking freedom on a writ of habeas corpus, to start September 3 before a referee who will be selected later.

Call for Specific Instances of Favoritism Made by Chairman Adams Precipitates Action Following Minority Criticism.

LONGINO COUNTERS WITH PROBE MOVE

Commissioner Edwin L. Johnson Bitterly Attacks Fellow Member in Supporting Resolution.

A probe of Fulton county affairs by the grand jury to determine if there are "parasites" on the pay roll was demanded yesterday in a resolution adopted by the Fulton county commission as the aftermath of a stinging resolution introduced by Dr. C. R. Adams, chairman, in reply to recent charges of "parasites" and extravagance in county government made by Commissioner George F. Longino.

As the commission met yesterday, Dr. Adams presented his resolution demanding that Longino furnish the names of the "parasites" and point out waste and extravagance in buying for the county. The motion passed.

Longino replied with a motion requesting a thorough investigation of county affairs by a committee of the grand jury. This resolution was adopted unanimously.

He referred to land which is rented to the county by Longino, and he asked the commissioner about a county car which he charged Longino in using. Johnson said that if there has been any extravagance and if there are "parasites" on the pay roll Longino had voted for them, "because in the six months I've been on this board he has never voted 'no' but once, and that was against the election of Dr. Adams as chairman."

He charged that Longino's recent statement concerning "parasites" and extravagance was merely "cheap political propaganda for the newspapers."

Longino Replies. Commissioner Longino replied that since the new members came on the board he had been excluded from all but the most formal meetings held once a month.

The majority faction of this board meets every day or so but I am not allowed to attend. They meet and run the business of the county by themselves," Longino declared.

General Longino said he had rented some land to the county and I have rented this same place Continued in Page 8, Column 6.

GERMANY BEHEADS DUO
FOR MILITARY SPYINGWarrants Issued Against Man and Two Women Companions.

BERLIN, July 3.—(AP)—Two more Germans, too eager to learn or too willing to divulge Germany's precious military secrets, died under the headsman's ax today, bringing to 17 those executed or sentenced for espionage during recent months.

Heads to roll today were those of Egon Brex, 28, convicted of trying to procure armaments secrets, and Bruno Hindemann, 63, convicted of betraying military information.

Wilhelm Batsch, 48, who was tried with them in the dead people's court, was sentenced to life imprisonment for revealing military information.

Semi-official quarters revealed that several more persons were awaiting trial, and little hope was held that mercy would be shown them in view of the Reich's determination to keep its rearmament secrets.

TEN ARE POISONED

Family Stricken After Mistake in Baking Cake.

MERIDIAN, Miss., July 3.—(AP)—Ten persons were suffering from poisoning today which resulted from eating cake at the home of J. B. Harrison, of Coldwater. Their five children, a son, Edwin Harrison; his wife, a son, of Norfolk, Va., and Miss Zula Walton, employe in Harrison's mercantile store.

Miss Kate Harrison, daughter, made the cake Tuesday morning. Desiring plain flour, which was kept separate from self-rising flour, Miss Harrison said she poured from a sack what she thought was plain flour and mixed a cake. Instead it was poison used to kill potato bugs.

Eating the cake at supper Tuesday night, one by one the family and guests became ill. Physicians were called from Philadelphia and worked with the stricken people until early Wednesday morning. Attending physicians believe all ten will recover.

76 STILLS IN GEORGIA
RAIDED DURING MONTH

Georgia is still the leading corn liquor state of America, topping other southeastern states during June in the amount of liquor confiscated and the number of stills raided, according to R. E. Tuttle, regional director of the Alcohol Tax Unit.

Agents under W. K. Johnston, investigating in charges, raided 76 stills during the month, seized 2,762 gallons of liquor, 114,820 gallons of mash, seized 21 automobiles and trucks and arrested 125 persons on charges of violating the internal revenue laws.

One-third of the liquor seized in the southeastern region during June was taken in Georgia. Mr. Tuttle's records show. Liquor seizures in Georgia, South Carolina, Florida and Alabama totaled 80,000 gallons, while 280 stills were raided and 486 arrests made.

ROAD MONEY DISPUTE
WAITS ON ROOSEVELT

Washington and Georgia Officials Mark Time Over 4th of July.

Both Washington and Georgia officials involved in the controversy over the state's $10,000,000 federal highway fund marked time yesterday, apparently waiting for the President to promulgate general rules regarding highway expenditures which will cover the Georgia situation as well as that in other states.

It is understood that the President has approved the general highway regulations presented by Director Thomas H. MacDonald, of the Federal Bureau of Public Roads, but has referred them to Attorney-General Cummings for study. They probably will not be made public before Friday or Saturday.

Meanwhile, Judge Max L. McRee, of the highway board, announced in Atlanta after a series of conferences with county officials that the counties are not favorable to the plan of MacDonald and Secretary Wallace to use the funds on county roads.

"Practically all county officials are of the opinion that the fund should be used on primary roads," Judge McRee said. "While they would like their feeder roads improved they do not want this work done by neglecting the main highways which they realize are far more important."

White House Conference. President Roosevelt heard MacDonald, at a White House conference, discuss thoroughly the problem precipitated by the unheeded demands that the engineering personnel of Governor Talmadge's highway engineering force be improved.

Harry J. Hopkins, works progress administrator, sat in the conference. Later, MacDonald said there was "no news."

No member of the Georgia congressional delegation publicly stated that he had information on what was contemplated, but doubt was expressed from several sources that the President will approve any plan to go over the State Highway Board and deal with the counties and cities in road construction.

MILLIONS IMPOUNDED.

Should the reported plans thus collapse, it was believed in some quarters Georgia's millions would remain impounded in Washington until the state board agreed to abide by the requirements specified in the ultimatum sent down by Secretary Wallace.

Asked after the White House parley whether the federal aid county plan had been abandoned, MacDonald said he never had announced such a setup was contemplated.

The bureau chief had indicated last week the placement of the county plan had been abandoned, but two firmly worded letters sent to the White House by Senator George and Representative Cox, advising against handling the money other than through the state board—were understood to have resulted in caution and more study.

Senator George and Representative Cox, meanwhile, had received no answers to their letters to the President.

BULLETIN IS MAILED
DESPITE AAA ATTACK

Although containing a new attack upon the AAA, this week's issue of the Market Bulletin, published by the Georgia Department of Agriculture, will be permitted to go through the mails as second-class matter, it was announced yesterday by Lon Livingston, Atlanta postmaster.

Tom Linder, commissioner of agriculture, was warned several weeks ago that the Bulletin would lose its second-class mailing privileges if it carried editorials of political nature. The editorial this week attacks Secretary Wallace and the AAA.

Postmaster Livingston said he would forward a copy of the Bulletin to Washington today, but that in the meantime he would permit this week's issue to go through the mails.

FREE SWIMMING TIME
LENGTHENED AT POOLS

Atlanta children under 14 years of age will be admitted free to city swimming pools until 4 o'clock in the afternoon with the exception of Saturdays and Sundays, when the free deadline will remain at noon, it was announced yesterday by H. M. Rantin, chairman of the parks committee.

Plans for operation of 10 new playgrounds also were announced, bringing the total in Atlanta and Fulton county to 36, all conducted under the auspices of recreational department of FERA.

Heretofore the free pool admissions have expired at noon each day. The change was made after a petition had been filed by the Atlanta Federation of Trades asking that the time be extended.

POLICE KILL 500 DOGS
IN STRAY CANINE WAR

Although published reports have placed the number of dogs killed by police during the drive to eliminate untagged strays in the city at 2,000, actually less than 500 have been slain, police department officials said yesterday.

No accurate record of the number has been kept, they said, but from records of the sanitary department and from their own estimates the total number of dog deaths will not exceed 500.

Last year Mrs. White was third vice president of the auxiliary of the American association. She will return to the city at the end of two weeks, after attending meetings of the women's auxiliaries in Washington, D. C., Richmond and Baltimore.

CHANGES ARE MADE BY SALVATION ARMY

Four officers of the Salvation Army will be transferred to other cities, Commissioner E. L. Pugmire, southern territorial commander of the army, announced yesterday.

Major Richard Blanton, and his wife, will be transferred to Birmingham, Ala.; Captain Harold Ingoe, territorial cashier, will join the training staff at the Army college; Ensign Albert, secretary of the Army supply group, will go to Baltimore, Md., and Adjutant Irene McCann, a matron at the women's emergency lodge, will be transferred to Tampa, Fla.

JULY 15 IS DEADLINE SET ON BEER DEALERS TAX

Revenue Commissioner R. E. Matheson yesterday issued an ultimatum to wholesale and retail beer dealers to pay their state taxes on or before July 15 or face prosecution.

The commissioner dispatched several hundred letters to dealers warning them of the impending prosecution and pointing out that violation of the law was a misdemeanor, carrying with it both fine and imprisonment.

A great many of the large dealers have not yet paid their taxes, Commissioner Matheson said. "I think it is mostly due to neglect but there is a limit to the leniency shown in this duty. We are giving them until July 15. After that we will take action."

"No person is authorized by my department to sell any kind of medicine, and anyone approached by an impostor should notify the county sheriff at once."

$40,000 BLAZE LEVELS
BUILDINGS IN ROSWELLBuckhead Fire Department
Dashes Through Rain To Fight Flames.

A block and a half of business buildings in Roswell, 15 miles north of Atlanta, were destroyed by fire early yesterday.

Mayor Nap Rucker, old-time baseball star at Brooklyn, said the burned section would be rebuilt and arrangements would be made to get a fire department.

Only the arrival of the firemen from Buckhead prevented further damage, as Roswell has no fire-fighting equipment.

J. L. Butler, a member of city council, said the loss probably would run more than $40,000. He said President Theodore Roosevelt's mother, was some distance from the flames and was not in danger at any time.

Starts in Cafe.

Butler said he and a town policeman discovered smoke pouring from Ray Bagley's safe late last night and that the flames spread quickly to other business houses and stores in what is known as North Roswell.

Dashing the 15 miles in 15 minutes, despite a rain, firemen from the Buckhead station arrived in time to prevent the spread of the flames to other business establishments.

Butler said the business houses destroyed by flames were:

Several Stores Razed. Bagley's cafe, Joe Mansell's filling station, Cecil Coleman's filling station, E. B. Thomas' barber shop, a beauty shop in the same building as the barber shop, H. I. Weaver's feed store, H. E. Drake's grocery store, one vacant restaurant in a building owned by Mrs. Charles Fowler, a vacant warehouse owned by the Smith estate, a blacksmith shop and a garage.

Fanned by a summer breeze, the fire reached other buildings on the same side of the street as Bagley's cafe, which was between Alpharetta and Main streets, and then leaped the street into the empty warehouse. Firemen were required to take unusual precaution in fighting the flames because two gasoline filling stations were in the fire zone.

Roswell was famous as a resort and social center in the early days of the Georgia. Scores of wealthy families over the state came here for their summers.

Heroic Negro Woman Saves Baby
From Death Under Train WheelsUnknown Heroine Dashes Onto Clairmont Road Trestle
To Pluck W. R. Crawford Jr. From Path of Speeding Freight.

Truth is more thrilling than fiction, sometimes.

We all remember the dime novel thrillers of the rescue from the thundering wheels of a monster freight train in the nick of time.

Yesterday an unknown negro woman risked her life to save that of three-and-a-half-year-old W. R. Crawford Jr., who had started across the trestle at Clairmont road near the Decatur city waterworks with some negro children, who got tired of the slowness of his little legs and left him in the middle.

A freight train was rapidly approaching, when the unknown woman ran out on the trestle, picked up the young wanderer, ran back and off the trestle only a few feet in front of the train, its madly screaming brakes unable to grind it to a stop.

The woman disappeared and the police returned the child, missing for the second time this week from the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Crawford, at 325 Nelson Ferry road, in DeKalb county. Monday morning he left home and was found unharmed a few blocks away by police. Stricken again with wanderlust, he wandered off again yesterday, and but for the heroism of an unknown woman would never have lived to read the novels wherein the innocent child is always saved from "death beneath the roaring wheels" . . . if they still read them.

RETURN PLANNED
BY MAUDE ADAMS

Reappearance Will Be Made on Broadway for First Time in Decade.

NEW YORK, July 3.—(AP)—Maude Adams, for the first time in nearly a decade, will make her reappearance on the Broadway stage this fall, it was announced today by John Golden, her new producer.

The play, as yet untitled, is by a new author, Adelyn Bushnell, an actress. The 63-year-old star of "The Little Minister" and "Peter Pan," has departed for Thomaston, Maine, to discuss with Miss Bushnell the role, that of a mother, which she will portray in the drama.

Golden, who sponsored such well-known productions as "Turn of the Mind," "Lightnin'" and "Seventh Heaven," said that the play will not have a summer tryout, but would be staged directly for its Broadway premiere.

Miss Adams, who retired from the stage after her long engagement as Miss Thing in Sir James Barrie's "A Kiss for Cinderella," returned to the theater after 13 years' absence in 1931. She then made an extended tour as Portia in "The Merchant of Venice." However, she never brought the Shakespearean revival to New York.

Louisiana Senator Decides To Cancel Engagement
Because of Ill-Feeling.

STAMFORD, Conn., July 3.—(AP) United States Senator Huey P. Long has decided to cancel his proposed speaking engagement here July 13 rather than be the center of a local controversy, it was announced today by Lester P. Barlow, the Louisiana senator's representative.

Barlow quoted Senator Long as refusing to come here if his visit would result in any ill-feeling.

The original announcement of Long's intended visit here met with discouragement from Mayor Alfred N. Phillips Jr., who refused to give the Louisiana senator permission to use a city park.

Barlow said today that Mayor Phillips had reconsidered and had consented to allow Senator Long to speak in a section of Woodside park, but he doubted whether it would change the Louisiana senator's cancellation.

Mayor Phillips' letter granting permission was put in the mail yesterday and the cancellation from Senator Long came by telegraph during the night.

FEDERAL AGENTS RALLY
TO HUNT FOR GIRL, 13Warrants Issued Against Man and Two Women Companions.

GREENVILLE, S. C., July 3.—(AP) Federal agents today joined the search for 13-year-old Audrey Jones, of the Greer Mill section, as local officers expressed the belief she had been carried to Washington by abductors.

Warrants charging Harold Bishop and his two women companions, Botch Long and Kathleen Long, all of New Bern, with abduction, have been issued. Botch Long was arrested and released under bond as officers took up the trail of the others at a grocery store where the child was said to have been slapped as her companions, a man and a woman, told her they were taking her to Washington.

The child has been missing since Saturday night, when she was said by witnesses to have entered a car near her home.

S. D. Jones, the child's father, said federal agents had taken up the search on the possibility that the case might involve violation of the Lindbergh kidnapping law.

'EASTMAN' BILL GIVEN
COMMITTEE APPROVAL

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(AP)—A bill of senate opposition beat today around the "Eastman" bill consolidating regulation of carriers under the Interstate Commerce Commission, but it emerged with all committee amendments intact and ready for renewed battle next week.

The bill was defended by Senator Wheeler, democrat, Montana, as a measure carrying out the President's plan of consolidating all transportation regulation under the I. C. C. to remove a "chaotic" condition in the industry. It was drafted under direction of Joseph B. Eastman, federal transportation co-ordinator.

Many of the senators contended it would spell destruction to water transportation.

Order To Put Man, 103,

CHICAGO, July 3.—(AP)—Patrick Dalton, who is 103 years old, was considerably excited when he received a letter from the Illinois Emergency Commission. At his age he's not accustomed to getting mail.

For the past three years the relief commission has supplied him with $8.33 worth of food and coal orders. He opened the letter wondering.

It was an order to report for work.

Dalton explained the matter to relief authorities. The order was rescinded. It was all a mistake, they said.

MUNCY, Pa., July 3.—(AP)—Justice of the Peace Robert Burns fined Mrs. Fulmer App, of Muncy, $50 on charges that after being cited as a typhoid carrier she prepared food which caused the death of three persons and made 11 others ill.

D. H. Quigley, health inspector, charged last night that Mrs. App served food for 70 guests at a party after being warned she was a carrier of the germ. A carrier is one who houses the germ in his body, but is not himself susceptible to the disease.

AT ATLANTA'S THEATERSWheeler and Woolsey
Seen at Georgia Today

Combining fast-stepping music and spine-tingling thrills with their own insane brand of hilarity, Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey open today in "The Nitwits" at the Georgia theater, said to be different from anything they have done heretofore.

The elements of melodrama and musical comedy are so lavishly that could be the basis of an individual production. In keeping with the atmosphere of "The Nitwits," the orchestra introduces new melodies now orchestrated over the other waves—"You Opened My Eyes," "The Black Widow," "If You Don't Watch Out," and "Music in My Heart." Betty Grable, famous for her solos with Ted Fio Rito and for her "Let's Knock Knees" number in "The Gay Divorcee," Joey Ray and Joan Sanderson, of musical comedy and radio fame, and Wheeler and Woolsey offer spirited interpretations in the dancing and singing sequences.

The murder mystery is developed by Stuart Palmer.

Earl Hines Orchestra
At Auditorium Tonight

Local jazz lovers of both races will receive a big surprise package for the "Fourth" tonight from 9 to 1:30 o'clock when Earl Hines and his famous Grand Terrace Cafe orchestra from the south side of Chicago are heard at the old city auditorium.

Featured jointly with "Father" Hines, reputedly America's leading jazz pianist, are Walter Fuller, trumpet player, and Billy Franklin, clever trombone expert. Fuller is best with his scat singing of "Rosetta," while Franklin's lyric tenor thrills on his hits "Trees," "Black Moonlight," and other such numbers.

Picture Made in China
At Paramount Today

"Oil for the Lamps of China," the latest Cosmopolitan production which comes to the Paramount theater today, will give Atlanta theatergoers a real treat for their Fourth of July.

The novel by Alice Tisdale Hobart, upon which the picture is based and which was one of the best sellers, is a colorful delineation of the life of American pioneers in China, who fought flood, fire, famine, pestilence and banditry to carry on for the American firms whose business they carried.

Mrs. Hobart spent years in China as the wife of an American businessman and got her information at first hand. She spent many years in writing her vivid story. The scenes for the most part are laid in the orient, including the snow swept plains of Manchuria, Peking, Shanghai and the torrid interior. Atmospheric shots were taken in Manchuria a year before a camera crank was turned at the studio. Director Mervyn Leroy spent several months in the orient.

July Fourth Prologue Presented at Capitol

The Capitol theater, while not making a change in its program today, saw to it that the program which started last Sunday would fit into the spirit of the Fourth of July.

The feature picture is "It's a Small World," starring Spencer Tracy and a special cast. On the stage is eight acts of vaudeville featuring Janet Adler and her Rhythm Sweethearts, famous all-girl band.

A special added attraction on the stage is "Americana," dedicated to the Fourth of July, a prologue presented by the Reese School of Personality.

Votes Ban on War Credit.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(AP)—A bill to forbid American loans or extension of credit to the government or citizens of any warring nation was approved today by the House of Foreign Affairs committee. The measure would not, however, apply to a country engaged in war as an ally of the United States.

AID IN MERCY SLAYING FACES MURDER CHARGE

Chicago, July 3.—(AP)—Assistant State's Attorney Richard Regan today, said the state intends to ask a murder indictment against William Ganschaw, 38, mechanic held for helping his wife to die as an act of mercy.

Ganschaw called the police to his north side flat yesterday morning, they found his invalid wife, Elizabeth, dead after 10 years of painful illness. Ganschaw told of rigging 20 feet of hose to the gas jet, of handing the hose to his wife and watching her die.

"We were both discouraged, and we thought we might as well end it all. I put the end of the hose in my mouth after she threw her arms back, and I went to sleep."

Regan, taking charge of the investigation, was told by the Ganschaws daughters:

"Father was exceptionally kind to mother, she often begged him, and us, to do something to end her misery. She suffered terribly from neuritis and diabetes, and three months ago she had a stroke which paralyzed her left side."

But Regan said: "Ganschaw will be charged with murder, even if his story proves to be true."

The old mechanism was composed as the investigation began. He explained, "Elizabeth begged me to do it. She said, 'Pa, don't let me suffer any more.' I always did what my girl (his wife) said."

Ganschaw's finger nails were examined in Northwestern University's crime laboratory, and West Avenue police announced traces of skin had been found which they believed came from his wife's chin.

ENGLAND GOES TO AAA FOR SPINDLE CUT PLAN

LONDON, July 3.—(AP)—Great Britain has borrowed an idea from the New Deal, it was disclosed today by the text of the cotton spinning bill, containing a modified version of the AAA processing tax, proposed to eliminate excess spindles and relieve the spinning crisis.

The bill creates a board empowered to borrow $2,000,000 pounds (about $10,000,000) for buying and decommissioning superfluous plants. There is the precaution, however, that spindles cannot be sold abroad.

Interest for amortization of the loan will be met by a levy paid for 15 years by the remaining operators on a basis of operating spindles. During the first three years of the plan no new plants can be built unless it is acquired from the spindles board and an equivalent plant surrendered.

The plan differs from the processing tax in that the mill owners instead of the consumers finance the reduction.

BIDDLE WILL RETIRE FROM LABOR BOARD

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(AP)—Francis Biddle, chairman of the Labor Relations Board, said today, he would leave within a few days to return to his private law practice in Philadelphia.

His retirement will leave only one member of the board set up a year ago to enforce the collective bargaining guarantee in NRA codes. Dr. Harry A. Mills left several weeks ago to resume his position as head of the economics department at the University of Chicago.

Cramer Denies Intention To Start Nudist Colony

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(AP)—Grinning and handsome Lawrence W. Cramer, lieutenant governor of the Virgin Islands, denied today he intended to start a nudist colony there.

The question was suddenly popped today into the senate investigation of the Virgin Islands administration when committee counsel asked Charles H. Gibson, former island attorney, if Cramer "the only one who was in favor of establishing a nudist colony there."

Smiling broadly, Gibson said: "I cannot say."

But Cramer, in the audience, laughingly told reporters there was "nothing to it." He explained:

"One of the charges brought was that I intended to start a nudist colony on Christiansted Island. In the first place I haven't the figure. In the second place I would never start it there. It is in the middle of the harbor. It would stop all traffic."

17 AMERICAN LIBERALS SENT HOME BY CUBA

HAVANA, July 3.—(AP)—Seventeen American liberals detained when they arrived in Cuba last night to investigate social and political conditions here were informed late today they would be deported tonight.

United States Consul Donald Edgar told Clifford Odes, left-wing playwright and leader of the commission, that the group would be placed aboard the Ward liner Oriente, the boat aboard which they arrived, about 7:30 p. m. The Oriente sails for New York at 8 p. m.

Two New York School Teachers
Will Be Held For Further Investigation

It was learned on unimpeachable authority that the government decided not to permit the Americans to enter Cuba either as immigrants or tourists, basing its action on the fact that two Cubans already have filed denunciations with the Immigration Department charging them with attempting to enter Cuba "to disturb peace."

Members of the "investigating commission" have been held since their arrival last night at the Tiscornia detention camp across the bay from Havana, where the United States consulate communicated with them today.

DAVIS' HOMER BEATS GIANTS; HUBBELL LOSES

Phillies Defeat Leaders, 4-3, in Ten Innings.

NEW YORK, July 3.—(AP)—Curt Davis set the Giants back on the heels in two different ways today and led the Phillies to a precedent-smashing 10-inning victory over the Giants, 4 to 3, today. Among other things it was the first game the league leaders have lost on their own grounds to an eastern club this season.

The Philly pitcher, who was hampered by a sore arm earlier this season, not only limited the Giants to seven hits but won his own game in the tenth with a home run. It was his first circuit swing this year and the 12th off Hubbell in 18 games.

Hubbell, seeking his tenth victory, got off to a bad start when the Phils scored twice in the opening inning on a series of scratch hits and an error. Ethan Allen started with a Texas league double; George Watkins singled just inside first and Gus Mancuso, trying to pick Allen off second, heaved the ball into center field. John Moore was passed, filling the bases, then Dolph Camilli bounced a hit off Hubbell's glove to bring in one run and Mike Haslin's fly scored another.

The slender southpaw didn't allow another run until the sixth, when Camilli belted his 16th homer of the season. Meanwhile the Giants had picked up a run in the second on a hit batsman, a single, a force-play and an error and then tied the count in the sixth when Hank Leiber lined out his eleventh homer of the year behind a single by Mel Ott.

Allen, a former Giant, pulled one of the season's best fielding plays to check a Giant rally in the eighth. With two on base and one out, Leiber leaped a short fly into left. Allen deliberately trapped it, tossed to Lou Chiozza at second to force Ott, and Chiozza and Verges trapped Terry between second and third, the latter tagging him on the base line to complete a double play.

But there is a strain to the job. And the strain of the past three weeks, when one ball game meant losing first place, has been as torrid as the weather.

But by the dawn's early light you may see that our brave flag is still there, floating o'er the ramparts of first place. We are leading the league.

And we will need 12,011 voices out there this afternoon to

Today is Independence Day. You are at perfect liberty to go on picnics and sit down on ants' nests and eat them with your pie; no one will stop you from getting in the family bus and joining in the slow-moving traffic which will hie to the mountains, the seashore and the hills; perfectly innocent fish who have done you no harm await your coming; you may blister at the seashore and lake; you may wear yourself out climbing mountains.

It is Independence Day. Today we celebrate Bunker Hill and Lexington and the Boston tea party.

You may drive out to spend the day with the wife's people and let them look at you and silently wonder why their daughter should have chosen you—all people—for better or for worse when that nice Jones boy—with money—lived right next door.

We are a free and independent people.

You may help your kids shoot fireworks and get powder burns, necessitating anti-tetanus serum. You may wait for hours at the tee for a starting time and toil about the golf courses. You may, without asking permission, play tennis or diamond ball or amateur baseball.

Today we rejoice that we kicked John Bull in the pants, twisted the lion's tail and made it possible for English novelists to come over here in covets each year to tell us in a broad Harvard accent, we are a barbarous people.

You may attend the automobile races at Lakewood park and watch genuine daredevils with ice-machines as hearts and ice water in their veins, drive tiny cars at a speed of more than 100 miles an hour around dangerous curves.

You may go to the finest minor league baseball park, out on Ponce de Leon avenue, and see the Atlanta Crackers, the greatest minor league baseball team, in action against a real contender, the Nashville Vols. They play two games, starting at 2 o'clock.

Somewhere in this favored land there will be, I imagine, at least one man who will sleep late, arise and have a comfortable breakfast.

He will remain carefully in his pajamas, seek the coolest spot in the house or apartment; surround himself with a pitcher of lemonade or several cold bottles; the latest magazines, a good novel or so; he will turn the electric fan upon himself. Late in the afternoon he will have a nap, arise, seek his cool spot and his chair and remain there until bedtime. He will interrupt this only for lunch and dinner.

But it is your day. Didn't we give the red coats a trimming? This is Independence Day.

THE CLARION CALL.

It so happens, clients, that our Crackers need a mere 12,011 baseball fans out there this afternoon. It is a small sum of fans. We need that many to set a minor league attendance record. No other minor league club has ever attracted 200,000 fans through July 4.

There is a double-header this afternoon and there are more than 12,011 actual seats out there, a great many more than that. Hence, I am shilling for the ball club and asking that we get out there this afternoon for about four hours of good solid entertainment.

The Atlanta club happens to be one of the most entertaining the city ever has had. It is made up of intelligent, hustling players and they are worthy the support this town has been giving.

There will be a great many of us out of town today and there will be others at the races, but people who go to races don't go to baseball games. The issue is up to the Atlanta fan.

A mere 12,011 fans this afternoon, please. The club refused to play one morning contest and one afternoon, wanting to reward the loyal fans with two for the price of one. I'll be seeing you, at 2 this afternoon.

IT IS A STRAIN.

Setting the pace is quite a strain. For almost two months now our ball club has been pacing the field. In the past three weeks they have been almost on the bring of second place, but each time have pulled away.

All this is not so easy. The rise of the Memphis Chicks and the improved play of Nashville and New Orleans has added to the strain of holding the lead.

This happens to be a ball club which is interested in winning. It is playing pennant-winning baseball and not the "first-and-fifth" baseball we have been used to in the past. If you do not speak the vernacular, it may be well to explain that the "first-and-fifth" baseball is playing merely for the pay checks which come on those dates. The Crackers have played to win. They are interested in their play, encouraged by the large crowds and want to win.

But there is a strain to the job. And the strain of the past three weeks, when one ball game meant losing first place, has been as torrid as the weather.

But by the dawn's early light you may see that our brave flag is still there, floating o'er the ramparts of first place. We are leading the league.

DETROIT TAKES THIRD STRAIGHT FROM INDIANS

Four Errors by Roy Hughes Aid in Tiger Victory.

DETROIT, July 3.—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers, aided by four errors by Roy Hughes, of Cleveland, took the Tribe into camp today, 11-7. It was the Tigers' third straight victory over the erstwhile second place holders.

Hughes threw the ball wide twice and booted two grounds, contributing to five Tiger runs.

It was a bad day for the hurling staffs of both clubs. Hildebrand and Sorrell were the starters. Sorrell was yanked for Sullivan in the second after Cleveland jumped into a three-run lead. Hildebrand left in the third and was replaced by Brown. Pearson finished for Cleveland and Cochran called on Hogsett to twirl the last two frames.

Campbell's double in the first inning opened the scoring when it brought home Galster and Knickerbocker who had singled. A double by Knickerbocker accounted for another run in the second.

Pete Fox opened the Tiger half of the second with a single and, Hayworth, who was backstopping for the Tigers, banged out a single to score him. Hayworth had a big day, with a double, triple and two singles in five trips to the plate. He drove in five runs.

The Tigers bunched four hits in the third, which with a walk and a Hughes error, went for four runs. Two hits, a passed ball and Berger's mishandling of a grounder accounted for two more in the fifth.

Cleveland came back in the seventh to even the score with a three-run rally on two hits and a pair of walks.

But the Tigers returned in their half to score two more, largely on Hughes' wild throw with two Tigers aboard. Hughes wound up his performance in the eighth with a wild heave to the outfield that advanced Greenberg and Rogell, who had singled, into scoring position. Hayworth brought them home with a single.

MACHINERY ACCIDENTS KILL TWO DEKALB MEN

Arthur H. Erwin, of Decatur, and Lithonia Negro Are Mishap Victims.

Breaking machinery yesterday claimed the lives of two residents of DeKalb county.

Arthur H. Erwin, prominent in Decatur lodge circles and for the last 17 years an employee of the Walker Electric Company, 526 Means street, died at Georgia Baptist hospital at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon of injuries received a few hours earlier when a 5,000-pound machine slipped from its bearings and crushed him to the floor. Mr. Erwin was superintendent of the sheet metal department of the electric company.

A crane, weighing several tons, mounted on a county truck, yesterday morning crushed to death John Hambrick, negro, of Lithonia. The truck was at Wallace Station, on the Briarcliff road, at the Seaboard railroad crossing, unloading gravel when the crane boom snapped. The heavy rail section swung and pinned Hambrick against the steering wheel of the truck. He was dead when extricated. He had been in the employ of DeKalb county for two or three years.

Funeral services for Mr. Erwin, who was 59 years old, will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning in the chapel of J. Austin Dillon, with Rev. Rober H. Jamppin and Rev. G. F. Venable officiating. Burial will follow in East View cemetery.

Mr. Erwin is survived by his wife, two daughters, Mary and Helen Erwin; three sons, A. H. Jr., Charles D. and Homer Erwin, and two sisters, Mrs. Alma Smith and Mrs. L. B. Wilby.

WORK-RELIEF SET-UP OVERHAULED BY F.D.R.

made plans to check the financial resources of applicants, but officials said the change in procedure will make control more effective. Revised procedure for jobs, who was known to feel that Hopkins had taken entire control, also was predicted.

The president made no attempt to conceal his irritation at reports that the entire program has turned into another civil works administration. He read at his press conference today until newsmen repeatedly cried "enough," a long list of the more durable projects which Hopkins will carry out in Georgia, Alabama and New York city.

Asserting that he personally had approved all of these, Mr. Roosevelt denied reports that state works progress administrators would carry out others without referring them to the work relief commission. He said he had decided to increase the percentage of expenditure on farm-to-market roads from 25 per cent to 37 per cent of the $400,000 highway allotment. A formal White House statement defined the new PWA-work progress applications plan.

The president said he had approved most of a $100,000,000 reclamation program. Several of these, as well as rivers and harbors work, he termed "national" in scope and said they would receive funds even though exceeding the work-relief quota for their states.

The President said he had decided to increase the percentage of expenditure on farm-to-market roads from 25 per cent to 37 per cent of the $400,000 highway allotment. A formal White House statement defined the new PWA-work progress applications plan.

U. S. Offices to Close. Federal offices in Atlanta will be closed today. The one exception is the postoffice, which will remain open until 12 o'clock. There will be one mail delivery in the business section of the city but none in the residential districts, according to Postmaster Lon Livingston.

Independence Day freedom was assured 36 inmates of the stockade yesterday when Mayor Pro Tem. Ed A. Gilliam signed releases for the group. Gilliam's action served a dual purpose. It relieved congestion as well as benefiting those to whom the releases were issued. Superintendent J. C. Ellis recommended the pardons so the prisoners could spend the holidays with their families.

Holiday On Gangs. Prisoners at the county jail and the 1,102 inmates at the county convict and industrial camps will have a day of rest. It was announced yesterday in the office of the county superintendent of public works. A meal consisting partly of roast pork, mashed potatoes, fresh cake for dessert, is in store for the prisoners, it was said. Hundreds of Atlantans will celebrate at pools and lakes in and near Atlanta, to swim, to picnic and to rest in the sunshine. Should there be no showers much olive oil will be rubbed on arms, legs and backs and tomorrow there will be a picnic on the grounds of the county office building.

Millionaire Gets Flood of Praise For Job Bar to Those on Relief

Work Hunters Descend on Halliburton; Unemployed Girl Calls One Man Fight on "Dole" an "Incentive"; Squawks Are Trailing, 6 to 1.

DUNCAN, Okla., July 3.—(AP)—An avalanche of letters from job-hunters descended upon Millionaire Eric P. Halliburton today as his one-man fight against what he calls "the dole" drew nationwide attention.

"I can't hire all of them," was Halliburton's comment as he turned from a pile of applications to three large stacks of communications both lauding and condemning him.

Halliburton, a slight, alert individual who crees flew through a storm "to find out how it felt"—drew the mountain of mail by proclaiming that no person who has accepted relief can work in his enterprises.

He employs more than 1,000 men in a Los Angeles investment firm, a Houston oil mine, a race track, a baseball team and his oil well cementing company headquarters here.

Unassigned letters from Palos Verdes Estate, Cal.; Columbus, Ohio; Beaumont, Texas, and other parts of the nation assailed Halliburton as "heartless," and declared "if every man who was up with the way money is being spent in this country."

The commendations are running from 6 to 1 to 8 to 1 in favor of the squawk, Halliburton said, grinning. "But letters asking for jobs are more numerous than all the others combined."

Three of the writers wanted Halliburton to run for president. A man in Houston, Texas, wrote two letters the same day.

A jobless Kansas City girl called his order an incentive to persons seeking work.

From Belgium intended for Ethiopia had been held at Djibouti, French Somaliland.

They said such an action would be contrary to French policy, stating: "France has no right to hold shipments of arms or munitions to Ethiopia. Under international law, shipments cannot be stopped in peacetime. Perhaps the reported shipment was held up for technical reasons, for the papers may not be in order."

BRITISH CABINET TACKLES PROBLEM. LONDON, July 3.—(AP)—Britain's cabinet wrestled for more than two hours today with the Anglo-Ethiopian problem, but had no progress to report at adjournment.

While the government kept constantly in diplomatic touch with France in an effort to obtain her full cooperation in the Ethiopian question, it was learned authoritatively no other member of the League of Nations had been approached.

The cabinet heard Captain Anthony Eden, Britain's traveling diplomat, report on his recent visit to Rome in which he tentatively offered to have Britain cede part of British Somaliland to Ethiopia in return for Ethiopian concessions to Italy. This Premier Benito Mussolini refused.

Sir George Russell Clerk, British ambassador to France, was understood to be communicating daily with the Quai d'Orsay in an effort to avoid renewal of French suspicion first stirred by Captain Eden's report that a country was seeking Pierre Laval of France of the territorial proposal he made in June.

among persons who are without employment and those who are employed but cannot secure one dollar for their services, then the relief money could not be limited to persons in one particular class or group. In other words, the thousands of public school teachers in Georgia who were not paid their salaries during the last two or three months of the school term just closed and quit at the same time, and declared themselves unemployed and without funds then they would have been eligible for relief work under the terms and conditions outlined by the Federal Relief Administration office. I submit that these regulations which would force a policy of preference are really wrong."

Appeals for Help. "In making this appeal to you, I am doing so, after having consulted with Mr. Hopkins and with the other members of the Georgia delegation and after his complete refusal to render further assistance to the patriotic and loyal teachers in the public schools of Georgia and throughout the thousands of children from poor homes in the state; and I want to make it doubly clear to you that the thousands of teachers who have wired me, written to me and come to see me in person, believing that as a member of the committee on education it was my duty to assist them in securing these funds, are no longer looking to Mr. Hopkins to take action in their interests but they are expecting you, to whom was given control of the enormous amount of money in the recent $4,800,000,000 bill, to take immediate and prompt action to see that Georgia is no longer discriminated against in this particular respect. As a member of the committee on education, as a member of the house of representatives, as a citizen of Georgia and the United States, and as a democrat, I appeal to you to give this matter your most serious consideration."

"Please be assured of my every interest in the welfare of our citizens and with kind regards, I am, my dear Mr. President."

Representative Deen reviewed the history of Georgia's fight for school funds and asked that the school funds be placed in the hands of the state's congressional delegation he could not allow school funds to the state.

2 Carriers of Typhoid Found in Philadelphia. PHILADELPHIA, July 3.—(AP)—The City Department of Health announced today it had found two typhoid carriers who prepared or handled food for an American Legion picnic that resulted in 72 typhoid cases and three deaths from the fever.

Dr. J. Norman Henry said the identity of the two women will not be disclosed. They are co-operating with the department and are under hospital supervision, along with 33 other known carriers of the disease, he said.

The typhoid followed a Memorial day outing of the Russell G. Gross post of the Legion One of the suspected carriers, Dr. Henry said, prepared picnic food in her home before the picnic, neither has contracted the fever.

to Fulton county for 10 years or more, which was long before I became a member of this board.

"And as for the county car I'm using I've been thinking of asking for a new one. I want a Rolls Royce so I can better keep up with the way money is being spent in this country."

Faction Meetings. "Early this year we adopted a resolution that we would not take on any more employees but this resolution has been disregarded. The majority faction meets behind closed doors and when we come into the monthly meeting the three members seek to find jobs for the persons they've already hired," Longino asserted.

The board has a special agent now. (He referred to Louis Crawford, who was republican United States marshal.) Well he may be the agent of this board, but he is certainly no agent of mine. I do not need any agent to do my business for this commission," he said.

Longino hit at the pay increases which have been made this year, too. "Some of the employees were raised $100 a month, others were not increased at all," he said.

Claims Promise. In a recent newspaper statement Longino said he had been promised by Commissioner Adams that a special meeting of the board would be called to consider the criticism made by the board by an earlier grand jury.

"Do you remember making me this promise," he asked Dr. Adams. The chairman replied, "I do not recall any such promise."

Dr. Adams also told Longino that two meetings of the commission had been held subsequent to the grand jury report and Longino had not brought the matter up at either of them.

It was after this series of attacks and defenses that the board adopted the resolution which demanded of Longino that he "supply to the board of county commissioners the names of any parasites which now infest the county pay roll in order that honest and conscientious county officials and employees may be relieved of the stigma of parasites."

Two Did Not Vote. Longino and Commissioner Ragdale did not vote on this resolution. They represent the minority faction of the board.

Commissioner Johnson seconded Longino's resolution demanding a probe by the grand jury to reveal parasites and extravagance. If they exist, Longino recently stated he knew of a great deal of waste in purchasing materials and in other expenditures.

After swift exchange of charges, denials, countercharges and more denials, which made the board meeting seem for a time more like a drama than a business meeting, the grand jury body, in session, the participants in the verbal affray got down to work.

Railroad Charges "Discrimination." A delegation from the Southern railroad, headed by Hugh Couch, assistant vice president, requested that "discrimination" in routing cars of supplies purchased by the county be stopped.

The commissioners voted to enforce a resolution adopted two years ago ordering that business of the county be equitably distributed.

Couch said his company paid 44 per cent of all railroad taxes in Fulton county but only got 5 per cent of its railroad business. He asserted another group of railroads got 90 per cent of the county's business but paid less taxes than his company. The commissioners decided to instruct Mose Holland, county purchasing agent, to see that distribution of business was equitable in the future.

Release of the $100,000,000 federal road fund for Georgia, now tied up in Washington, was favored in another resolution which was passed.

War on Beer Sellers in the county who have not purchased licenses was declared by the commissioner yesterday.

Dealers are now being investigated and will be prosecuted to the extent of the law unless they procure permits and licenses. There have been 98 permits issued in the county and five were disapproved by the commission.

A plea for the commission to declare the airfield on Hightower road a nuisance was referred to a special committee. Residents of the neighborhood charged the planes and glider on the field constituted a nuisance.

The commission favored a resolution offered by the North Fulton Civic Club to request government officials that a CCC camp be constructed in the north section of the county near Roswell and Alpharetta.

S. C. LIQUOR STORES CLOSED FOR FOURTH. COLUMBIA, S. C., July 3.—(AP)—Governor Olin D. Johnston today ordered all South Carolina liquor stores to remain closed from sunset today until sunrise Friday because of the Fourth of July holiday.

In Greenville for the state American Legion convention, the governor notified his office here to proclaim the sales suspension in an effort to promote a "sober Fourth."

The governor was empowered by the legislature to prohibit sales of liquor on legal holidays and during periods of emergency "if he deemed it wise."

The stores are closed regularly between sunset and sunrise, and on Sundays.

BAT-WINGED AVIATOR FLIES AND DOES STUNTS. CLARKSDALE, Miss., July 3.—(AP)—On his first attempt, Irwin Davis, Clarksdale aviator, made a successful "bat wing" flight from 6,000 feet over the local airport late today.

Davis maneuvered himself through the air for 40 seconds with the bat-like wings strapped to his body. He opened his parachute 1,000 feet above the ground.

While descending earthward, he performed rolls, spins and outside loops.

Washington Focuses Interest on Talmadge and Hoover Declarations.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—(AP)—Challenges facing President Roosevelt in his re-election campaign may be signalled in tomorrow's celebrations of the Fourth.

Division among southern democrats over the administration course, especially noticeable of late, will be marked at Canton, Ga., in a speech by Governor Talmadge.

The republican wing led by former President Hoover is looking to two brief addresses by him at Grass Valley, Cal.

Mr. Roosevelt himself plans to remain in the White House, probably to work.

It was said some administration leaders would be privately active over the week-end in an effort to forestall threats of another house uprising next week, this time on the projected strengthening of the TVA.

The Talmadge speech, in the opinion of some politically alert Georgians, may herald a presidential primary campaign there between the President and the Governor.

A simultaneous pro-Roosevelt rally at Warm Springs was called off, it was said, because the President "prefers that nothing of a political nature be associated with that health community."

Governor Talmadge has connected his opposition to NRA and AAA principles with defense of states' rights.

If Mr. Roosevelt goes into constitutional questions, his words will be analyzed as focusing the issue more, "Save the constitution" has been projected by Vice President Curtis as one republican campaign slogan. While 1936 appears likely to witness a breaking down of old party lines never more than did 1928 and 1932.

Organized republicans, although cold to suggestions for a coalition ticket against the New Deal next year, talk more often of attracting democrats to their standard.

If the administration is concerned, it gives no outward sign. Rather than curtail the New Deal, the President has added to it to such an extent that adjournment of congress is indefinite.

$2,000,000 GOLD CACHE IS FOUND ON ISLAND. TORONTO, Ont., July 3.—(UP)—Confirmation was received today from the Mexican government, Charles Colville, local financier announced, that gold bullion, possibly valued at $2,000,000, has been found on Santa Margarita island, off the Mexican coast. He owns the island.

the event. Although it is in the northwestern corner of the state, it is preparing to greet visitors from all sections of the state. The folks will bring their own basket lunches and make a day of it.

Besides the governor, Hugh Howell, of Atlanta, chairman of the state democratic executive committee, also is in the program. He will speak briefly.

Howell predicts the "biggest crowd Georgia has ever seen." He says "Talmadge is stronger in Georgia today than ever before."

Followers Are Missing. Talmadge followers by the hundreds are expected at Canton for the speech. And when Talmadge and his followers get together at a speaking it isn't a one-man speaking by any means. The governor entertains comments from the crowd and responds to the friendly utterances from the crowd with a grin and an elaboration of his line of thought; where unfriendly comments come forth, he lashes back with barbed words.

It's what he calls "the folks doing the talking."

Canton is a bustle preparing for the event.

'36 'STRAWS' EXPECTED FROM SPEECHES TODAY

WASHINGTON, July 3.—

Sally Forth Tells of New Racket Perpetrated Upon Atlanta Couple

By Sally Forth.

AS you are a witness, there are many kinds of rackets. Some are clever, some are remunerative. Others are just stupid tricks that are obviously rackets. But here is one that is different. At least Sally never encountered it before. And, in addition to being rather clever, it appears to have been profitable.

It happened to a prominent Atlanta couple as they were en route to open their handsome new summer home at Sea Island Beach. Making the trip by motor, they were nearing the city of Hawkinsville. As they slowed down for a turn at the foot of a hill, they spied a smart new roadster, bearing a New Jersey license tag, which had come to a stop on the curve. Standing beside the car was an exceedingly well-dressed, youngish man, and seated inside was a handsome woman who was equally well turned out.

They seemed in need of help. To stop the car, and he inquired of the gentleman if he could be of aid.

"Yes, you can," replied the prepossessing stranger, "for I am in a most embarrassing situation."

Whereupon he made this explanation: "You see, my wife and I spent last night at a tourist camp near here, and while we were asleep we were robbed of every penny we had."

Mr. and Mrs. Atlanta were most sympathetic, and again they expressed their desire to be of aid. "Of course," continued the gentleman in distress, "I can wire for money as soon as I get into Hawkinsville, but I have never been so mortified. The thief did not even leave me enough to pay telephone tolls."

Immediately Mr. Atlanta extracted two bills from his wallet and proffered them to the man, who accepted them most graciously. He then inquired for the donor's card so he could repay the money as soon as he heard from his New Jersey bank. Mr. Atlanta handed aside the suggestion, saying it was such a small amount.

A week later the Atlanta couple was returning from Sea Island for a hurried visit home. They again neared the turn at the foot of the hill just outside of Hawkinsville. And would you believe it? There stood the same roadster with the same New Jersey license, the same immaculately clad gentleman and his feminine companion.

Furthermore, the man again stepped out and hailed the approaching car. He began to repeat his tale of woe—and the same tale without a variation, if you please. He did not recognize his former benefactor.

Mr. Atlanta was outraged, for identification was instant with him. "Why, you dirty scoundrel," he said, "you stopped me right here last week."

But the racketeer was unabashed. He smiled and admitted his guilt. "Yes," he answered, "I made $100 here last week. After all, a fellow must make a living some how."

Now Sally asks you: "How's that for a racket?"

THESE summer days seem to inspire rumors of all kinds. One of the most interesting to reach Sally's ears is that concerning an attractive Atlanta widow whose matrimonial ship stuck the rocks several years ago. Born and reared in this city, the widow represents prominent Georgia families. Her marriage took her to a near-by city, where she resided until she found that divorce was her only escape from an unhappy marriage. Returning here with her children, she renewed girlhood friendships and has been the center of admiring friends. Keen intellect, vivacious personality and charming manner are only a few attributes with which she is endowed.

Rumor has it that Atlanta will lose the young widow and her children before a new year dawns. It is whispered that a handsome widower from a distant city has persuaded the widow to embark upon a second matrimonial voyage. Other admirers have been equally as ardent in their pleadings, to which the disillusioned widow has turned deaf ears. But rumor insists that she will heed the wooing of the successful businessman from the orange blossom state.

PATRICIA ELLIS is one of the prettiest stars in moving pictures. Her best beauty is none other than Atlanta's Earl Blackwell, who went to Hollywood several years ago. Although Earl has appeared in some moving picture scenes, his main interest in living in Hollywood has revolved around his business affiliations.

Modern Screen, a magazine that publishes everything interesting about moving picture personages, has this to say about the Ellis-Blackwell romance in the current issue: "Pat Ellis was seen for the first time in 10, these many moons, stepping out to the Trocadero with Earl Blackwell. Theirs was one of those romances that 'flattered,' as Hollywood romances have a way of doing. But it looks as if all is well again with the handsome young couple—for the time being anyhow."

Culbertson on Contract

By ELY CULBERTSON. World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst.

Underleading a King. Once years ago students of contract bridge used to be told never to lead away from a king. Expert players eventually came to realize that the lead of a low card from suit headed by the king is not so bad as they once thought, and now such a lead is preferred to the underlead of an unsupported queen or jack. This proves how wrong academic standards of the game of contract bridge may sometimes turn out to be.

Exception. No one has yet come along to disprove the obvious fact that the king itself, when not accompanied by either the queen or the ace, should not be led. Yet even this apparent bridge axiom sometimes has its exceptions. In the deal shown at right, I saw one of these exceptions developed in a very forcible manner.

South dealer. Both sides vulnerable.

The bidding: (Figures after bids refer to numbered explanatory paragraphs.)

South	West	North	East
1♠	Pass	2♥	Pass
3♠(1)	Pass	3♥(2)	Pass
3♠(3)	Pass	4♠(4)	Pass
Pass	Pass	Pass	Pass

1—Ordinary with a six and a four-card suit it is proper to bid the long suit a second time before showing the shorter suit. South properly varies the procedure in this case to show that he has a strong hand. His hand is not quite good enough to bid three spades but he fears that a simple rebid of two spades will not adequately express his strength. The three diamond bid, since it raises the contract to the nine-trick level, shows that South has a strong hand and encourages North to rebid.

2—This shows rebid values but not great strength.

3—South now shows his rebidable hand. But rumor insists that she will heed the wooing of the successful businessman from the orange blossom state.

4—Actually North has shown all his strength but with adequate support for the rebid spade suit he is willing to gamble for a game.

West opened the King of diamonds and South won with the ace. Wishing to establish a heart trick before the setting trick for East and West, South's next lead was a heart and he won dummy's ace, leading back the queen. East covered and South ruffed, the jack of hearts now being established. Next South led a low diamond loser in dummy. Upon winning this diamond trick West was in a predicament. If he failed to lead spades South would be able to ruff both of his losing diamonds. If West led a low spade, dummy's queen would win the trick and while South would ruff only one diamond loser, he would have avoided the loss of a trump trick.

West adequately solved the problem by laying down the King of spades. This seemingly unnatural play protected the setting trick for East and West. South won with the spade ace, but now if South wished to ruff a diamond he would have to use the high trump and later lose an extra spade trick. And if South used the Queen of spades to draw a round of trumps, he would eventually be forced to lose two more tricks and with them his contract.

TOMORROW'S HAND. South Dealer. East-West vulnerable.

♠ A 5 4 3 2 ♣ A 7 4 3 2 ♠ 10 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ K Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ K 9 7 4 3 2 ♣ K 9 7 4 3 2 ♠ K 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♣ A Q J 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 ♠ K 6

Play this hand to make four spades. See our article of tomorrow.

Mr. Culbertson will send to any reader who will enclose a self-addressed, stamped (3-cent) envelope with his request, a booklet containing the new rules, discussing changes in the rules and discussing the etiquette of Contract Bridge. The request should be addressed to Ely Culbertson, in care of The Atlanta Constitution.

Miss Helen Bell Is Accorded Honors for Recent Painting

Miss Helen Bell, daughter of Mrs. J. T. de Jarnette, of Atlanta, has won new laurels in the realm of art. Her clever painting of a negro doll called "Topsy," received the applause of critics attending the Chicago artists and vicinity show held at the Art Institute, in Chicago, in mid-February.

"Topsy" painted for the youthful artist's own amusement, was hung alongside a number of enviable canvases, executed in the main, by youthful artists. Miss Bell's painting was accorded sincere tribute by the Chicago Tribune's writer, being one of 15 selected from the entire collection for favorable comment.

Into the canvas is interwoven life and animation. The simple subject chosen by Miss Bell proclaims in the sweeping brush strokes and color technique the talented artist. Through her ability she has depicted in the little colored doll warmth, aliveness and understanding.

The canvas has graced private showings as well as public ones. When a connoisseur planned a showing at the Palmer House he secured Miss Bell's permission to exhibit "Topsy." From Mexico also came congratulations for the southerner. Taking the form of an invitation to visit Teco, Mexico, that lovely spot south of Mexico City, the appreciation of Miss Bell's work was shown by Valentin Daura, the well-known Spanish artist and by William Spradling, author.

Miss Bell received her education in Atlanta having attended the North Avenue Presbyterian school and studied art at the High Museum. She continued her art education at the Chicago Art Institute specializing in fashion illustration. This spring Miss Bell plans to visit her school friend, Mrs. S. M. Pickering, in San Diego, Cal., where Lieutenant Pickering will be stationed with the naval aerial unit. She will visit Mexico and will return to Atlanta for the summer vacation.

Friendly Counsel

By CAROLINE CHATFIELD. Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondence inviting such name held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

Dear Miss Chatfield: I know what I want to do but I am not sure it is the best thing to do. Which is the more desirable for a girl who is domestic-minded, a lover of home and music—marriage to a honest, hard-working, level-headed young man who is ten years her senior who can give her the bare necessities of life—or a good job that gives her a comfortable living. He loves her and she loves him. This is my dilemma.

JILL.

Answer: Aren't you making the choice harder than necessary by assuming that if you choose marriage you must give up work? All around are young married couples who are making a go of the fifty-fifty plan. By living on the bare necessities which your young man's salary supplies, you may keep your job, even if you make, invest it and at the end of a short time sit back and enjoy the fruits of your labors. Wouldn't this be a more practical plan than relying solely on the struggling young husband's earnings and wouldn't it be more satisfactory than renouncing love and marriage?

It is doubtful if a domestic-minded girl is ever quite contented when she ignores the dictates of her heart, turns her back on the man she loves and attempts to solve herself with a fat pay envelope. Oh, she may buy pretty clothes, many books, tickets to concerts and what not, but these things don't give her heart-satisfaction. Even if he is as poor as Job's turkey there is heart-satisfaction in the husband. And if he is honest, industrious, level-headed he won't always be poor.

There are so many interest-bearing coupons attached to a husband, coupons that wives may clip as long as they live. Ask the woman who has married a man who has each one questioned will give you a new slant on the subject. Here are some of the interest-bearing coupons:

The joy of possession. The sense of permanence in companionship that nothing but death need destroy.

The sense of protection, for a husband always stands as a buffer between her and the cold, cold world.

The pleasure of coming first in the thought of another. Ownership of a home without which no domestic-minded woman is quite happy.

The play-toys for youth, immeasurable pleasure and entertainment for middle-life, and comfort and stays for old age.

Could anybody imagine for a moment that any other career held out such bright prospects for the present or such high hopes for the future? The material comforts and luxuries are not to be scorned or discounted. Indeed there are many girls who cannot be happy without them. When they are married to live in one room, cook on a one-jet gas burner or electric plate, wear last year's clothes, ride the street car and sit at home instead of going to high-priced entertainments, they rue the day they gave up luxury for love. But there are others who, for the sheer joy of close companionship with the men they love, count about their sacrifices and privations were bagatelles.

So when a girl comes to make the choice she should search her heart for answers to these questions: Can I endure the hardships of poverty, if not am I willing to work to escape them? Do I love him enough to make nothing matters by comparison with the thought of spending the rest of my life with him? If she can answer yes to these queries she may safely say yes to the great question. Otherwise her doubts spell Don't.

CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

Dear Miss Chatfield: If your girl's family sat on you every time you had a date what would you think and what would you do about it?

Answer: I would think she had arranged with them to stand by and I would stay away. As a rule a girl can get her family when her favorite boy-friends call. There are some exceptions of course. Suppose you ask the other boys if they get the same sort of treatment. If they do then you needn't be discouraged.

CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

Wright-Maddox Rites Solemnized At Church Ceremony in Mayo, Fla.

MAYO, Fla., July 3.—Miss Georgia Amelia Wright, attractive young daughter of Rev. and Mrs. L. E. Wright, became the lovely bride of Joseph Goodwin Maddox, of Atlanta, Ga., at an impressive morning ceremony solemnized Saturday at the First Methodist church here.

The Rev. L. E. Wright, father of the bride, read the marriage service. The nuptial music was furnished by Cecil Dees, of Mayo, as soloist, and Miss Elizabeth Adams, of Mayo, as pianist. Mr. Dees sang "I Love You Truly," and Miss Adams rendered the "Flower Song" during the ceremony.

The interior of the church presented a scene of floral beauty as arranged for the ceremony. Palms, ferns and other tropical foliage formed an effective background for the profusion of garden flowers in pastel tints.

The groomsmen were Cecil Dees and Charles Ware, of Mayo. Bunney Green and Raymond Cone, of Mayo, acted as ushers. Harold Hudgens, of Atlanta, Ga., served as best man for Mr. Maddox.

The bride entered the church with Dr. J. C. Ellis, who gave her in marriage. Miss Betty Wright, sister of the bride, was her maid of honor, and the bridesmaids included Mrs. O. P. Wright, of South Miami, and Miss Margaret Parker, of Jacksonville. Little Miss Prunella McCaskill, of Perry, Fla., was the flower girl. Govan Ware, of Mayo, carried the ring, and Jewell Dees, of Live Oak, was the pillow bearer.

The bride was a charming figure in her wedding gown of lustrous white satin, fashioned with the smart high neckline, long close-fitting sleeves and a long satin train built into the graceful skirt. Her veil of tulle was held in place with sprays of orange blossoms, and her bouquet was formed of pale pink rosebuds tied with silver ribbons and tulle.

The maid of honor wore a picturesque gown of yellow organdy, with a wide-brimmed leghorn hat. She carried an arm bouquet of yellow rosebuds.

Mrs. Wright wore a lovely gown of lettuce green organdy, made like that worn by the maid of honor, with a leghorn hat and a bouquet of pink rosebuds. Miss Parker's costume was of cerulean blue organdy, worn with a leghorn hat, and a sheaf of pink rosebuds.

Rev. and Mrs. Wright entertained at a beautifully appointed wedding breakfast following the ceremony at the Mayo hotel, in compliment to the bride couple. Mrs. Wright received her guests wearing a gown of orchid crepe, with white hat and accessories. Mrs. W. A. Maddox, the groom's mother, was gowned in black chiffon combined with lace and worn with black and white accessories.

Mr. Maddox and his bride left for a wedding journey to the Blue Ridge mountains. On their return they will reside at 242 Haralson avenue, Atlanta, Ga., where the bridegroom is a prominent figure in the decorating profession.

RURAL REHABILITATION TRANSFER TO BE MADE

Resettlement Division To Take Over Assets of Old Agency Tomorrow.

The Georgia Rural Rehabilitation Corporation will cease to exist tomorrow morning when its $5,000,000 in assets will be turned over to the Rural Resettlement Division at a meeting to be held at 10:30 o'clock in the office of Miss Gay B. Shepperson, FERA administrator, and president of the corporation.

The corporation was formed more than a year ago to handle rural rehabilitation in Georgia. Large tracts of land have been acquired and more than 13,000 families taken from relief and put on farms so that they might become self sustaining. The corporation has loaned the settlers funds with which to purchase livestock and other farm equipment.

It is impossible to transfer funds from the $5,000,000 allotted for rural resettlement projects out of the $4,880,000,000 works relief funds, to the Georgia corporation, and for that reason all the corporation's assets will be transferred to the Rural Resettlement Division, a new federal agency which will carry on rural rehabilitation work.

R. L. Vansant, who has had charge of rural rehabilitation in Georgia, has been named acting director of the Rural Resettlement Division, the regional head of which Philip W. Turner, former chancellor of the University System of Georgia. It is expected that Mr. Vansant will be continued in his present post.

As a result of the transfer of corporation assets, the sum of $250,000 will be made available to carry on the present rehabilitation program in Georgia, according to Mr. Vansant. It will probably require from six weeks to two months to work out the new program of the resettlement division and put it in operation.

McBRAYER RESIGNS METHODIST PULPIT

Suspended Pastor Surrenders Credentials to District Presiding Elder.

The Rev. J. E. McBrayer, suspended pastor of the Lakewood Heights Methodist church, yesterday submitted his resignation from the Methodist ministry and surrendered his credentials to Dr. R. L. Russell, presiding elder of the Atlanta district.

Mr. McBrayer is launching a new interdenominational church in the Lakewood Heights area. In his letter to Dr. Russell, the pastor said: "I deeply regret that it has become necessary for me to resign from my connection with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. I feel sure it is unnecessary for me to make any lengthy explanation concerning the reason for my resignation. I have not at any time desired anything that I was accused of saying or doing. I have contended and still contend that I had a right guaranteed not only by the constitution of the United States, but by the law of the church herself, to express my opinion concerning prohibition and the alcoholic beverage control act. Section 9 of the 1924 discipline of the church stands with our brethren represented in the federal council of churches of Christ in America, for recognition and maintenance of the rights and responsibilities of free speech, free assembly, and a free press, the encouragement of free communication of mind with mind, as essential to the discovery of truth. This law should have been my protection but it did not have a chance. The trial committee has violated the principle of this law in suspending me when the only thing I have done is express my sincere opinion. I do not hold any unbrotherly feeling toward any one who has had a part in bringing about my suspension. It is mistakes that have been made in handling my case could be corrected and I could be exonerated and reinstated. I would be happy to continue in the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, but after serious consideration I see nothing for me to do but resign, so please accept this as my resignation. I will appreciate it if you will give my resignation such direction as it should have."

With best wishes for you and the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, I remain, Sincerely yours, J. E. McBRAYER.

NEW YORK, July 3.—(AP)—With the exception of railroad issues, the corporate bond market was able to climb another notch or two today despite pre-holiday apathy in investment circles.

The Associated Press averages for both the industrial and utility groups entered new 1935 high ground, the former at 97.3, up .1 of a point and the latter at 96.3, up .3 of a point. The averages for other groups were: Chemicals, 97.3, up .1 of a point; Electric, 97.3, up .1 of a point; and General, 97.3, up .1 of a point.

Transfers aggregated $10,070,000, par value, a very respectable showing against the $10,070,000 of the previous day. The market was active, considering the holiday and the fact that a sizable portion of the investment fraternity was engaged in placing the new $55,000,000 Bethlehem Steel issue that was put on the market yesterday.

United States government bonds made their best showing so far this week. The majority of active treasury issues were bid up 2-3/4 to 3-1/4. The 2-1/2% active issue in the loan division, gained ground at 100.22. The turnover in government securities aggregated $1,310,000 against $830,000 Tuesday.

The same familiar issues that have been conspicuous in recent rising sessions were absent of the market today, including Columbia Gas, up .1 point at 97.3; Federal Light & Traction Co. 5s up 1-1/2 at 94.12; Philadelphia & Crocker 5s up 1-1/2 at 94.12; and McCracken 5s up 1-1/2 at 94.12.

American Water Works Co. 6s, which had a winning spell yesterday, coincident with omission of the dividend on the common, snapped back yesterday, ending 1-1/2 higher at 98.1-1/2. New England Telephone Co. 5s entered new 1935 high ground at 123, up 3-8 on balance, and Kings County Power Co. 6s duplicated its 1935 peak at 149.50.

Southern Railway bonds continued to disturb the allocations group with losses in this line's securities, again ranging from 1-1/2 to 3-1/4. Pointing to where the market was, the Southern Railway bonds, which had a winning spell yesterday, coincident with omission of the dividend on the common, snapped back yesterday, ending 1-1/2 higher at 98.1-1/2.

Foreign bonds were quiet and showed only slight changes. Most of the new American loans tumbled lower.

TARZAN AND THE FIRE GODS No. 112

From a high crag, Tarzan kept an eye on the exit from the crater and saw that Jerry and the girls were not there. "I hope they are lost," he soliloquized. "A fright might restore their senses." But he did not anticipate the calamity that awaited them. . . .

At that moment, Jerry, Lady Beth and Arbel were far from frightened. Their feast upon Ekbal's goat had revived their flagging spirits, and now they lay down to rest their weary bodies before resuming their strenuous search for the crater's exit. . . .

Meanwhile, Ekbal sped through the forest, his mind racing, too, with excited speculation concerning the strangers who had mysteriously entered the mountain-sealed crater. In the tented village of his tribe, he hurried to the headquarters of the captain-general.

Breathlessly he made his report. The eyes of Massedon, the leader, blazed with a fierce ecstatic light. He clenched his fists and a grim smile quivered on his lips as he whispered mysteriously: "Through the ages we have waited. Now the Great Day is at hand!"
